(By the Associated Press) Rowing a steady sustained stroks of 23 to the minute for the full four miles, the Yale varsity crew defeated Harvards eight by close to three lengths in the feature race of the 55th regatts of the rival universities on the Thames river at New London late Friday afterments. The story of the race is a story were passed left no doubt as to the better combination, and Harvard supporters had Boon. The story of the race is a story of a three-foot lead smatched in the first faw heats of the contest gradually stretched into a three length lead at the finish of the long four-mile up-stream

The contest which savored more of a well ordered procession rather than a hattle of bindes was without particular theil other than the perfect form and commanding shown by the New Haven crew couched by the English commandered content was not so far behind but the final application of power so notice while in the Ell blade work was missing to a greater extent in the heat of the Crimson.

Weather and water conditions and in marked contrast to the morning centests, when rough water and sequally winds handicapped the forencon contestants. When the varsity eights appeared at 5.50 at the stake boats under the railroad bridge there was scarcely a ripple on the Thames and though the sky was overcast occasional rays of late afternoon sunshine brightened the course. Tide conditions rather favored the shells in their upstream course and Yale cohorts on both observation trains and river banks dou-

to a greater extent in the beat of the Crimson.

The superiority of Tale crew is well illustrated by the official time for the rece which was won in 21 minutes and 32 seconds to Harvard; 22 minutes and 32 seconds. The winner's time today fell one minute and 51 seconds behind the course record made by Harvard in 1918. The Blue-tipped cars were showing the way at the end of the first half mile by three-quarters of a length and this distance had been increased by a few feet o fone water at the miles.
